NORWAY AND VICINITY

Important Meeting.
An important meeting of the Universalist parish was held, Saturday evening, when it was voted to pay the pastor, Rev. M. C. Ward, his usual salary until the first of June, when he will leave Norway to accept a pastorate in another section of the State.
Mr. Ward leaves the parish simply because the parish deemed it important to reduce expenses, and so did not feel they were able to pay Mr. Ward what he is now getting.

Mr. Ward is leaving with the good wishes of everyone, and since coming to Norway has made a host of friends. His work in the church has been highly satisfactory.

Jackson Clark, for many years proprietor of a shoe store in Norway, received a post card shower on his 80th birthday. Ray York and Gideon Morrisette, who went to Montreal, have returned and are working in a shoe factory in Auburn.

Maud York of Damariscotta Mills, who has been visiting her aunts, Mrs. A. P. Bassett and Lilia York, returned home, Tuesday.

"Sweet Lavender," under the auspices of Co. D, N. G. S. M., a play by local talent, at Norway Opera House, Thursday evening, Feb. 20.

Hattie Richardson, who has been working at North Waterford, has now returned home to help care for her father Simon Richardson, who is sick.

Carrie Matthews, a dressmaker at Smith's, has been spending a few weeks in Biddeford and will visit Mrs. Roy E. Cole in Canton, Mass., before returning. Norway Lodge No. 16, I. O. O. F., will hold a rehearsal, Monday evening, at their hall, at seven o'clock, and on Tuesday evening will work the second degree on four candidates.

The W. O. T. U. annual apron and food sale will be at Grange Hall, next Wednesday afternoon and evening. The proceeds will be devoted to charity work in the evening there will be a free entertainment by local talent.

"Bar Haven" will be presented by local talent, at Grange Hall, Harrison, Wednesday evening, Feb. 20th by members of Harrison Lodge No. 18, I. O. O. F., Woodland Rebekah Lodge. Drama will be followed by a dance.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Morrison of Bangor are visiting Mrs. Morrison's mother, Mrs. Freeland Howe. Mrs. Howe was visiting at her son's, Freeland Howe's, Jr., on Pleasant street, where she was taken sick. She was invited to her home on Main street, Thursday.

Every one knows, who attended the Maine Festival, that Giordano was the sensation and surprise, notwithstanding Nordica and Rappold. This man was appreciated by everyone with his singing and personality. It's a stroke of good fortune that you are to hear him in our village.

Mrs. Florence Anderson Otis, Soprano, who shared honors with Mma. Schuman Haink, and Mma. Nordica, at the Ocean Grove Festival last season, is an artist of great promise and will add greatly to the program, with her solos and duets, which she sings with Giordano.

Miss Sue Winchell is one of the finest Cellists in the country. W. R. Chapman's artistic work needs no comment. He is a wizard of the piano as well as the baton. The Chamber Concert program will appeal to all classes. It is especially operatic as well as popular. Don't fail to secure your seats early.

Norway Anchor Lodge I. O. G. T. No. 32, at last meeting, elected delegates for the district session at South Lewiston, Wednesday, Feb. 27th. The following were elected: Wm. J. Joslin, Mrs. Laura Stevens, Fred Allen, Mrs. Eliza Merrill, Rev. B. C. Wentworth, Ada Merrill and W. H. Stone.

The State officers of the W. R. C. have instructed the color bearers of the W. R. C. of the various towns in the state to request the officers of their towns to observe Washington's birthday, Saturday, Feb. 22, by having a good display of flags unfurled from both business places and private dwellings.

At a special meeting of the first Universalist parish held Feb. 15, 1913, the following resolution was unanimously passed:
RESOLVED: that we feel that this explanation is due to Rev. M. C. Ward and others, and therefore state that the vote taken on article three at the Parish meeting Jan. 21, was because of the financial condition of the Parish, and for no reason that should be construed to reflect unfavorably upon him as a minister and a man.

Lorne Elwin Company will present an attractive line of plays at Norway Opera House beginning February 25, 1913. Prices, 10-20-30.

Subscription Rates
2 months, 25 cents.
3 months, 35 cents.
4 months, 50 cents.
5 months, 75 cents.

NUMBER 8.

FEBRUARY 21, 1913, NORWAY, MAINE.

VOLUME XLIV.

A. OSCAR NOYES, The Founder of The Noyes Drug Store.

Vote as You Think Best.

In a conversation, in regard to improved conditions in Norway, a business man, and also a heavy tax payer, was heard to remark, "Every poll tax payer should vote to better conditions in Norway, if he knows when he is well off."

It would seem that this man is able, and also willing to carry the heavy load, that the poorer man may enjoy equally with him, much improvement.

Another man, who pays a moderate tax, was heard to remark that no poll tax payer should be allowed to vote on any matter pertaining to the raising of money by the town for improvements. There seems to be a wide difference in the opinion of the two men. The man of means and the poll tax man pay an equal poll tax. The man of means has much real estate, and is well off, and should be proud of such possessions to pay taxes on. But the poll tax man has no home to pay taxes on, so must lease his home from the man of means. He must pay taxes on the lease, and insurance, repairs and interest on the money invested in a home not his own. The only difference, then, is that the man of means pays the taxes on his home directly, while the poll tax man pays the tax on another man's property indirectly.

Should a man who pays twenty dollars direct tax on his own property, have more license to vote to raise money to improve conditions than a poll tax man, who pays a like amount indirectly on his landlord's property?

It is the privilege and duty of every poll tax payer to vote for conditions which will advance him to a direct tax payer. Keep your eyes on Articles thirty-two, thirty-three, and thirty-four and be present to vote your honest sentiments March third. A VOTER.

Co. D Notes.

1st Lieut. Edwin Butcher, 15th Inf. U. S. A., Inspector of Instructor of the Second Inf. N. G. S. M., has been in Norway for an informal visit.

On Monday evening, Feb. 10, Lt. Butcher conducted a war game for the benefit of the Non-Commissioned Officers. For this purpose a map, drawn to the scale of 12 miles to the mile, of the district around Fort Leavenworth, Kan., was used. At 8 p. m., Serg't Perry of the Reds was ordered by his Co. Commander to take a patrol of five men and proceed in a northeasterly direction toward Kickapoo. Then were more than the enemy were established in that direction about three or four miles away. Serg't Perry was instructed to locate their outposts and probable strength of their command.

At 12:30 p. m., Serg't Pike, of the Blues, was ordered by his Commanding Officer to take a patrol of five men, and proceed to the farm of J. Aaron about two miles southwest of their position, capture a herd of cows and drive them back to camp. Serg't Pike accomplished this in spite of the various troublesome situations that confronted him. Serg't Perry discovered the Blue patrol and hid his men in some woods to the right of the road traversed by Serg't Pike with his cows.

But Serg't Perry having more important business on hand refrained from attacking him, therefore Serg't Perry waited until the cows in charge of the Blues had passed and then followed the Blue patrol, intending to trail them into camp, but upon emerging from the town of Kickapoo his patrol was fired upon by a detachment of about twenty rifles. Whereupon he discovered the line of outposts and returned to camp. The Blues, Pike and Perry, successfully performed the tasks assigned to them.

Two flag kits complete with signal book have been received, these are for the use of the musicians who in future must be proficient in signaling. The School of Instruction for Non-Commissioned Officers terminated. At the end of the session there was an examination of the duties of Corporals and Sergeants. Those who passed this examination were awarded certificates of proficiency. Serg't Charles Scott, U. S. A., proceeded to Farmington the last of the week ending Feb. 15th, for duty with Co. K of that town.

A dance will be held Friday evening at John Woods.
Henry J. Bangs of Portland was in Norway this week. It is understood that he will go into the grocery business in that city.

Sensible Remarks on Streets.

EDITOR OF ADVERTISER:—I doubt very much if the constant reiteration of the few well known facts of our Main street and some of the other streets are very muddy, is of practical value,—but I think it would be worth while to consider ways and means of making them dry, smooth and durable.

From time to time I have taken the advantage of opportunity to examine the streets of other towns and cities. If Norway is to use a considerable sum of money on its streets, the tax payers want to feel sure of getting value received for what they pay. Some towns and cities have built expensive streets and afterwards been disappointed on account of serious defects showing up.

The best street I have seen, to my mind, is made of stone and concrete. The process is like this:—The surface of the street is excavated to the proper depth, the subsurface is smoothed and rolled with a heavy roller. About six inches of broken stone, of nearly uniform size, two to three inches in diameter, is placed on the surface. This is thoroughly rolled, all depressions being filled, so that the surface is even and compact when the work is completed. The inter-spaces are filled with concrete. The inter-spaces are filled with concrete. The inter-spaces are filled with concrete. The inter-spaces are filled with concrete.

The expense of such a street to the city of Westbrook was $1.65 a square yard. This includes the labor and the original street. I believe it does not include engineering and drainage, which ought not to be very expensive in our case.

The first cost of such a street is large. Perhaps some one might suggest a less costly less and still be such as to meet our demands. I believe our people are willing and anxious to help pay for such a street. As one of them, I want to feel assured that we are going to have what we pay for. Our people don't want to pay for something good and have it prove to be poor.

I am in favor of the kind of street I have described. When some one describes to us that appears to be as well or better adapted to our needs and costing less, I shall favor that.

Our town needs improvement along many lines, but the most dire need, truly, is to have upper Main and Cottage streets built over with material that is suitable and durable.

Respectfully submitted,

J. A. ROBERTS.

A Jolly Affair.

A jolly affair was the gentlemen's night, given by the Ladies' Whist club, at the Hayward club, Tuesday evening. The party enjoyed a sleigh ride to the club, where a delicious supper was awaiting them, this being prepared by Mrs. R. S. Dismore. The evening was spent at card tables and in dancing.

The whist club includes Mrs. Harry F. Ford, Mrs. H. T. Whittridge, Mrs. Geo. Devine, Mrs. S. W. Goodwin, Mrs. F. E. Smith, Mrs. Harold Anderson, Mrs. True C. Morrill, Mrs. Ernest Hutchins, Mrs. W. C. Leavitt, Mrs. Hugh Pennington, Mrs. George Cullinan, Mrs. I. W. Walte.

Harlan Kimball spent Sunday with relatives in West Bethel. Board of Trade banquet at Grange hall, this Friday evening.

Ladies' Night of the Golden Eagles will probably be held March 22nd.

Walter Luck and son Harry Luck, have bought the James Pledge meat market. Anna M. Stone was the guest speaker, Mrs. H. E. Fiske, at Locke's Mills Sunday.

Vivian Akers is to teach in the grammar school at Walpole, Mass., this spring. The Postmaster, C. S. Akers, will speak on the Parcel Post, at the meeting of the Grange, Saturday. Col. and Mrs. E. G. Schwartz are at Wolfboro, N. H., and other lake villages in that vicinity this week.

Odd Fellows' District Meeting.

One of the largest fraternal gatherings that has been held in this vicinity recently was the district meeting of Norway Lodge No. 16, and Mt. Mica Lodge No. 17, I. O. O. F., held at the Opera House, Norway, last Thursday evening, Feb. 18th, some over four hundred members of the order being in attendance. The home lodges were also honored with the presence of several of the Grand Officers among whom were Louis E. Flanders, Grand Master, of Auburn; Ellery Dowden, Deputy Grand Master, of Westbrook; Harry W. Reid, Grand Warden, of Augusta; William W. Cutler, Grand Secretary, of Portland; Walter L. Pratt, Grand Marshal, of Auburn; also the following Past Grand Masters, Chas. E. Jackson of Portland, A. S. Kimball and A. L. F. Pike of Norway.

The largest part of the visitors came from Auburn on a special train that arrived in Norway at about 7:30, being members of Abou Ben Adhem Lodge of that city. There were some over one hundred and fifty that came on the special besides a few that came in after noon to get the paraphernalia ready for the work of the evening. They were escorted by a drum corps to the hall of Norway Lodge, where a banquet was served by Mt. Hope Rebekah Lodge. Many other guests were represented in the number that made up the remainder of those present.

At the close of the banquet Norway Lodge opened the special meeting in the Opera House and the chairs were then filled by the degree staff of Abou Ben Adhem Lodge, who proceeded to work the First Degree on four candidates. Much was expected of this lodge but surely no one was disappointed. They worked with a team of about fifty men, and their ritual, dramatic and floor work was as good if not the best ever witnessed here.

Following the work, Grand Representative and Past Grand Master A. S. Kimball was asked to take charge of the good and welfare part of the program, and some very interesting and beneficial remarks were made by the Grand Officers and by George W. Haskell of South Paris, district deputy of this district and upon whose suggestion the meeting was planned.

The meeting closed at about 12 o'clock and was one of the most enjoyable events of its kind that the Odd Fellows in this vicinity have ever enjoyed.

Norway Literal Institute Commencement.

On Wednesday evening, from 6:30 until eight o'clock the ladies of the Congregational church served one of their best meals, a bean, salad and pastry supper at the Grange Hall, which was attended by about 400 persons.

Following the supper an entertainment consisting of a mock graduation was presented before a crowded audience. To the strains of delightful music, played by the "Greenview School Orchestra," consisting of Mrs. B. P. Bradbury, piano; Howard Young, square drum; Ed. Bunnell, bass drum; Dr. B. P. Bradbury, fiddle; John Harper, cornet; and John Smith, tuba. The board and graduating class, led by the marshal, (Michael Kerwin), proceeded down the center aisle amid laughter and applause.

The school board consisted of Mayor George W. H. Smith and D. Smith and Julia Horne. The preceptress was Mrs. Nancy McCrellis and Mrs. Francis Holmes. H. L. Horne was the principal and Herbert F. Andrews, submaster.

The graduating class numbered 15 and were as follows: Edna Maria Bartlett, Gertrude Walker Libby, Leon Marlin Logley, Harry "Tormentor" Jones, Melvina Hosmer, Eugene "Callum" Andrews, Walter Shepard Chandler, Nellie Louise Andrews, Wiggins Lyon Merrill, Gertrude Hildon Barre, Elvora Frances Cenne, John Foss Swain, Elvora Mand Shepard, Lena May Andrews, and Michael Francis Kerwin.

The graduates were "charmingly" beautiful. Their hair was "sweet sixteen", in their "graduation dresses."

The parts taken were, Salutatory by Edith Bartlett and was in Latin; Reminiscences of Norway Literal Institute, Gertrude Libby, telling of former courtships of its members, etc.; Class History, Harry Jones who told many secrets out of school; Modern War, Gertrude Hosmer, told most pathetically, the parting of two lovers, one Lewis Gilbert and one Alma Bailey as left in 1897, the Italian War in Waterford; Prophecy, Walter Chandler, who told each one their future which has come to be a reality; Doleful Events, by Eugene Andrews, gave a great many local jokes and caused a great deal of fun, so much that he was presented with a huge evergreen horse-shoe; When Women Vote by Nellie Andrews caused a lot of applause. Men in Nellie's day will be servants and have to keep in their place, the women do, sometimes for instance, put in sewer and pave Main St.; Northern Laborers by Wiggins Merrill told of great events that happened in 1492, using the names of the class members; Elvora Keene presented the gifts in a most charming manner and the gifts presented were those best adapted to the use of the graduates; Valedictory by Nellie Shepard, told in pathetic tones, the sadness in parting. Each graduate received: bouquets from the flower girls, Alma Bailey and Amanda Parmenter.

The diplomas were presented by Mayor Holmes and the class ode, written by Lena Andrews, was sung to the tune of "Put on your old gray bonnet."

After the class ode was sung, the graduates were paid to pay to the "walk", and was well woven into the essays.

Mildred Bradbury has been on the sick list. Carl Shank has been suffering from an attack of rheumatism.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Knightly recently called on friends in this vicinity.

W. L. Russ is home from Auburn, where he has been employed in a shoe factory.

Grace Sculley, who has been visiting at Ned Oudway's, has gone to Paris to visit her aunt, Mrs. Perley Whitney.

Felley Andrews has moved his family from Cross Hill to John Swain's camp on Pike Hill. Mr. Andrews is to cut pine as soon as enough snow comes to enable R. K. Morrill to haul it.

Birthday Party.

Mrs. Emma Cullinan entertained a few of her neighbors and friends at her home Saturday, Feb. 15th, it being her birthday. A very pleasant evening was spent playing whist and telling stories. Late in the evening the company were invited into the dining room where the table was loaded with many dainties and all did ample justice to the nice. Those present were Horace Sawyer and wife, Charles and Minnie Upton and wife, Oscar Bennett and wife, Mrs. Irene Locke, Lilla Locke and Jeanie and Marguerite Baker. She was presented with a very nice present of a waiter. They returned home at a late hour wishing her many happy returns of the day.

Noble's Corner.
Fred Hersey is cutting pine for Earl Barker.

Pearl Russell is hauling pine for Arthur Herriek.

Oliver Merrill was in Portland and visited his daughter, Mrs. Wm. Gately. Minnie Upton has returned from Auburn, where she has been for some weeks.

W. M. Russell dressed two hogs for C. D. Morse, and a hog and beef creature for O. B. Upton, one day last week.

Yaggar Neighborhood.
There was a dance at this hall Saturday evening.

Roscoe Frost has moved his family into the Brown house. The upper part that is used for dances by Alton Howe is to continue under the same management as in the past.

SOUTH PARIS.

Edward L. Parlin.

Edward L. Parlin passed away Monday, Feb. 17th, at 11:45, at his late home on Pine street, at the age of 63 years and 6 months. Death was due to consumption.

Mr. Parlin was born in Weld, in 1849, and was the son of Alpheus and Elizabeth (Hawes) Parlin. He was educated in the public schools of Errol, N. H., where he lived when a boy. For the past twenty-two years he has resided in South Paris. He has been in the harness business at Colebrook, N. H., and here at South Paris.

In politics, Mr. Parlin was a republican. He was a member of the Masonic order and was president of the American Benefit Society.

In 1872, he married Eliza E. Fuller at North Stratford, N. H., by whom he is survived. He is also survived by three children: E. William Parlin of South Paris, a farmer; Mrs. A. W. Andrews of Paris; Mildred F. Parlin, who works at the office of Dr. C. L. Buck; two grandchildren, Wendell C. Howe and Verna A. Howe. The children of the deceased have passed away—Mrs. Cora E. Howe, Harry Parlin and Archie L. Parlin.

The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon at his late home on Pine street, attended by Rev. T. N. Kowley, pastor of Deering Memorial Church. The bearers were Dr. C. L. Buck, George Parum, S. O. Ordway and E. O. Millet. The remains were placed in the tomb at Pine Grove cemetery.

THE CENTER OF THE STAGE.

Dixey Couldn't Bear to Have His Old Friend Mann Lose It.

When Henry Dixey and I were playing in the same company several years ago, says Louis Mann, he would frequently accuse me of scheming to secure the center of the stage, whether the comedy situation called for my being in that much coveted spot or otherwise.

We had many warm arguments on the subject, and years afterward, when we were separated, Dixey reminded me of our old difference of opinion regarding "the center" in a very original way. Some years ago I was playing an engagement in the Temple theater at Philadelphia, and Dixey was appearing in one of the other houses. During the run of the opera in which I played the part of the hero, he was playing the part of the villain.

Alcohol In Pe-ru-na-- An Unjust Criticism

S. B. HARTMAN, M. D.

Having a little business in one of the federal offices of the city, after I was finished I fell in conversation with the official in charge concerning Peruna. I mention his business to show that the conversation was conducted with a man of more than ordinary intelligence, being a employee of the government who had passed through several civil service examinations. He said to me, not knowing who I was: "I think a great deal of this patent medicine business ought to be stopped. Especially such remedies as Peruna. Peruna, as you know, is a stimulant and contains eighteen or twenty per cent of alcohol. People take it without knowing what it is, and such remedies ought to be prohibited by law. My own mother had Peruna once. She had a cough, night sweats, was growing emaciated and weak. Several doctors examined her. The opinion was expressed several times that she was going into consumption. One thought it was chronic bronchitis. At any rate, her condition was quite serious. She was unable to get any relief from the doctors she consulted, although she took their medicines faithfully for nearly a year. Some one told her about Peruna. She bought a bottle and took it. It was a relief to her family, she began taking it. At once she improved, and in less than six months she apparently was well. We did all we could to discourage her in taking Peruna, but she persisted. It finally came out in the magazines that Peruna contained alcohol. Then we knew at once what it was that benefited my mother, it was simply the alcohol that Peruna contained. We had the laugh on mother. She had not ceased to make fun of her yet about her being cured with a dilution of alcohol. She seems to be embarrassed by it."

My Dear Louis--At the risk of my life I climbed through the flaming ruins of the Temple theater and saved for you the "center of the stage." DIXEY.

Just Like a Woman.

A certain well known theatrical man wanted to take a business chance last week. He went to his wife and told her about it.

"I want to use our joint savings," he said. "If I lose I'll pay your share back; if I win I'll give you half the profits."

She told him to go ahead. He did and made $490.34. The day after the deal was closed he handed his wife a check for $250.

"It's all yours," he said, feeling highly delighted.

She looked at the check a moment as though puzzled. "Well, you gets the half of that 34 cents?" she asked.

A Clever Ruse.

When Thurlow was lord chancellor of England he was much at outs with the bishop of London. The latter was visited one day by a clergyman who sought appointment to a fat living then vacant. He wanted a letter of recommendation to Lord Thurlow, but the bishop said such a letter was likely to do more harm than good. Nevertheless he wrote it. When Thurlow read the missive he said, "Well, as that scoundrel, the bishop of London, has introduced you, you won't get the living." "So the bishop said, my lord," was the meek reply. "Did the bishop say so?" roared Thurlow. "Then I'll prove him a liar, for you shall have the living." And he was as good as his word.

Can You Beat Them?

James Oliver Curwood, the novelist, tells of a recent encounter with the law. The value of a short story he was writing depended upon a certain legal situation which he found difficult to manage. Going to a lawyer of his acquaintance, he told him the plot and was shown a way to the desired end. "You've saved me just $400," he exclaimed enthusiastically, "for that's what I am going to get for this story." A week later he received a bill from the lawyer as follows: "For literary advice, $100." He paid.

The Old Days.

Some years ago--it was in the good old days--a Pittsburgh worker went to Harrisburg and asked for a job as doortender.

"I don't want much," he said, "but I need this job."

The party boss agreed that he was entitled to some consideration.

"Find a door without a doortender," he said, "and you can have it," were the big man's instructions.

The worker looked around for several days and then reported.

"I can't find a door without plenty of doortenders."

"Not one door?"

"Nary door. Guess I'll go home."

"Wait a bit," said the boss. "You have been a good party worker. I'll have a door cut for you."--Pittsburgh Post.

Mrs. Emma Swan Estes passed away Saturday night, Feb. 19, in the hospital. Her remains were laid to rest in the burial vault in Lakeside Cemetery, Monday afternoon.

The supper of the Ladies' Circle was a success. The entertainment which followed was very good. Mrs. Bird of West Paris and Mr. and Mrs. Grover of North Paris, added much to the entertainment. A piano solo and encore by Mrs. Grover, a solo by Mr. Grover, and a solo by Mrs. Bird were much enjoyed by all present.

The primary school has closed taught by Elsie Cushman, a term of ten weeks. Those not absent day nor tardy were: Gertrude Perham, Clyde Brooks, Carroll Farnum, Bessie Muller, Roy Noyes, Linwood Newall and Mildred Newall. Those absent only one day were James Billings and Charlie Noyes.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Cushman just escaped a very serious accident. They were coming into the village when the strap that held up the pole broke, (Leon had two colts). He told his wife to jump. She was loaded with a fur coat and well tucked in with buffaloes. The horses were going quite fast, when she jumped, it threw her on the ice, near the Town Hall and it made her very lame. Leon held to the horses, they turned into Ned Swan's yard but didn't stop and they dragged him up past the Baptist church on to the meadow back of it. When they got into the soft earth he stopped them with a few scratches on the horses and Leon quite lame. It was a wonder he was not killed. His fur coat saved him many bruises.

Ridlon-Buck

A quiet wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Ridlon, at 8 o'clock, Feb. 8, when their daughter, Bertha Agnes, was united in marriage with Chester T. Buck by Rev. D. A. Ball. The single ring service being used. Only the immediate family, nearest relatives and the pastor's wife were present.

Refreshments of ice cream, cake and fancy crackers were served directly after the service.

The bride was becomingly dressed in white and carried a bouquet of pink carnations while the groom wore a suit of brown. They will reside with Mrs. Buck's parents for the present.

They received for wedding presents, a willow chair, a parlor lamp, linen and silver. Monday afternoon, Feb. 17, a company of friends visited them with a kitchen shower of nice and useful presents. There were about twenty-five in the party. Mrs. Buck and her mother, Mrs. Ridlon, served a treat of home-made candy, cakes and fancy crackers. Their many friends all wish the young couple a long and happy life.

The Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church held their annual meeting last week Tuesday with Mrs. Ellsworth D. Curtis. The following officers were elected:

Pres.—Mrs. Minnie J. Curtis.
V. Pres.—Mrs. Mabel Lane.
Sec.—Mrs. Mabel Lane.
Treas.—Mrs. Mabel Lane.
Chairman of Work Com. Mrs. Ford.

The society is doing well at the amount of money raised during the year shows.

Lincoln Day was observed at school last week Wednesday afternoon and students and friends were invited to attend and a good number were present to enjoy the program which was as follows:

The above program was given from 1 to 2 p. m. The teachers, Miss Jordan and Miss Murphy are the teachers of these grades and excellent work has been done. After the exercises were over the visitors were invited to look at the room and view samples of the children's work. One noticeable thing was some number work done upon some little wooden shovels which were hung along the top of the blackboard. The shovels were made and presented to the schools by E. D. Stillwell, overseer of the Paris Mfg. Co., branch. There were many other pretty things besides these. At 2:30 all were invited to the second floor where the next higher grades and high school scholars united and gave the following program:

Song, A vow.....School
Flag salute.....School

Principal A. J. Keaney and Miss Hill-dreth are excellent teachers and the school is doing good work under their instruction.

Mrs. G. A. Smith has been ill with the mumps.

John F. Wood of Snows Falls remains quite ill.

Bertha Penley is in the C. M. G. Hospital for treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Bryant of Snows Falls have been visiting relatives in Lynn, Mass.

Mrs. Dean Wheeler of Oakland is here this week visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Howe.

Mrs. Rose Boyce of Bethel visited her sisters, Mrs. Keenough, Mrs. Emery and Mrs. Billings, here last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. I. Burnham of South Paris visited at her brother's, Frank L. Willis' and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Porter of Boston have been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Marshall and family.

Linwood, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Curtis, has been quite sick with grip and is still under the doctor's care.

Rev. C. H. Young went away on a lecturing tour last week and was gone over next Sunday and expects to be gone over next Sunday.

Oris Curtis has moved back onto his farm on the Greenwood road, and Fred Tubbs and family who have been occupying it for the past year have moved into the camp near Willis' mill.

"Higbee of Harvard" recently presented with great success at South Paris and at Bolster's Mills under the auspices of the senior class of Paris High School will be played here by the same cast at Grange Hall, next Friday evening.

The friends of John Porter will be glad to hear that he is now more comfortable and on the gain. He has been having a long and severe attack of the grip. His mother from South Paris also his brother, Joseph Porter of Boston, were here to see him last week.

The W. C. T. U. will hold a Willard Memorial, Sunday afternoon, Feb. 23, at the Universalist church. Mrs. D. A. Ball who has the program in charge has prepared something interesting. Several readings are by the young men and ladies from the High School. All are cordially invited.

Mrs. S. T. White gave a valentine party to her Sunday School class last week, Saturday afternoon. There were sixteen little people present, some of the games played were with cards, hearts and the refreshments were made in the form of hearts or decorated with hearts. Two hours of real enjoyment was had.

The minstrel show to be given here at Grange Hall, two nights next week, Thursday and Friday evenings, Feb. 27 and 28th of February, under the auspices of the Good Will society. The best of local talent are in it and there will be plenty of music and good up-to-date songs and music and a farce the first night is entitled "The Colored Suit."

A Dairy Pointer.

The great trouble in the average dairy is that the animals are underfed, especially during the summer, when excessive reliance is placed in grass pasturage as a balanced ration.

TREATMENT FOR CUTS ON HORSES.

When a horse gets a barb wire cut do not apply axle grease or any greasy substance, writes A. S. Alexander, M. D. C., in the Farm Journal. Wash the wound clean. Clip off the hair around the wound and then wash again to get rid of hair and any foreign substance that may have lodged in the wound. If necessary to remove sand, earth or cinders from a wound, do so with a clean cloth, clean cotton batting or absorbent cotton, and not a sponge. A sponge becomes dirty and readily infects a wound. Each day use fresh absorbent cotton to do any cleansing necessary in treating a wound or sore. When the wound has been cleansed do not put in stitches (sutures) if the wound is deep or ragged or in a place that will not be perfectly at rest when the horse is standing, walking, lying down or rising. It therefore is useless to stitch a wound in front of the hock joint or on the thin skin in the bend of any joint or in the skin and muscles of the rear parts which are strained and used in rising. Often a horse suffers a wide open wound of the skin and the muscles at the side of the tail inflicted by the kick of the horse in the next stall. This wound rarely can be sutured successfully. The stitches tear out when the horse gets up, and the wound is made worse than before.

It is a mistake to introduce a new-comer to a whole roomful of people. She will not know which is which, but will be almost certain to bow to the wrong person. If she is a distinguished stranger, whom all wish to meet, one or two individuals may be brought up at a time, or the company may form a line, each person being presented in turn by the hostess or her deputy. In this case it is not necessary to repeat the name of the guest of honor each time, since every one knows who she is.

How to Prevent Silk From Breaking.

If annoyed by breaking silk when sewing, particularly in overcasting, where there is a hard pull on the thread, try drawing the fingers along the silk from the point where broken off to the end. Sometimes waxing gives further strength.

Never forget to thread a needle from the opposite end of the thread from where it is broken off.

A needle can be more quickly threaded if the eye is held over a white surface, and the needle itself is steadied by pressing the thumb back to back with the thread is being pushed through.

Be careful in your choice of needles. Cheap ones never pay. They rust and break quickly, and the least inequality of the eye breaks the thread. An envelope of thin oiled silk should be used for extra packs of needles, other wise they will be rusty when needed. Such an envelope should be included in the fitting of every workbag.

How to Judge Poultry.

A young chicken is known by an abundance of pinfeathers, soft feet, smooth skin on legs below the first joint and a soft cartilage at the point of the breastbone. The feet of old fowls are hard and covered with dry, coarse scales, and the cartilage at the end of the breastbone has become ossified. Good fowls should be plump, and the cartilage at the end of the breastbone should be soft and pliable. Turkeys should have smooth, dark legs, and the cartilage at the breastbone should be soft. Cock turkeys are usually better than the hen turkeys.

An Irish Squire's Advice.

An upstart Irish squire went to an old squire for advice as to sending a challenge.

"Heads of Loughlinstown," said he, "has threatened to pull me by the nose whenever he meets me. What would you advise me to do?"

"Has he really used that threat?" asked the squire.

"He has."

"Well," said the squire, "I'll tell you what to do—soap your nose well and it will slip through his fingers."

"Perhaps the most contemptuous declaration of a challenge was that of an Irish gentleman of the old school. 'Fight with him!' he exclaimed. 'I would rather go to my grave without a fight!'"

WEST FRYEBURG.

Buildings Burned

The surrounding community was very much saddened on learning of the destruction of the buildings of W. J. Pitman near North Fryeburg, by fire, on the eve of Feb. 11, including his entire property, consisting of two nice houses, two cowsheds, two swine and forty hens, also a calf, with everything in machinery, hay, grain and all household furnishings.

Mr. Pitman was away at the time, but after his arrival at the scene and in trying to save his horses, was overcome with smoke, and barely escaped with his life. A paper is being circulated for his benefit.

Mrs. Sara Stevens, who has been very sick since Christmas, is now much better. Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Lang were guests at their daughter's, Mrs. H. W. McKee, Sunday.

Richard Hutchins, who is working at North Chatham, was at his father's, B. E. Hutchins, Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. Coleman's buildings are much improved by the addition of a bay window in the sitting room. He is preparing to put a piazza on the front, this spring.

The cold weather for the past few weeks, with so little snow on the ground has caused the fountain at E. L. Walker's to need a little assistance in supplying the pipes which run to his house.

NORTHWEST NORWAY.

Penel French was the guest of Elsie Buck, Saturday night and Sunday.

Ed. Morse's sister from Locke Mills was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Morse a few days.

Perley Southlet sold a cow to Ernest Penley of Bartlett and he bought one of W. S. Buck, recently.

Rena Buck, who is teaching in Waterford, spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Buck.

Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Frost have moved into Penel French's house, which is known as the Henry Brown house.

Mr. and Mrs. George Abbott were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Spaulding Abbott on O'Connell St. d'ge, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Abbott, Gladys Abbott, Address Bartlett and Miss West visited at Ed. Marston's, Norway Lake, Saturday, Feb. 15.

Eugene and Augusta French went to Boston, Saturday, Feb. 1, to visit relatives and friends. Eugene returned home the next Tuesday but Augusta is going to stay several weeks. Ethel Abbott is keeping house for her.

Arthur Meserve has moved part of his stock up to the John Frank barn for Henry Howe to take care of the rest of the winter, and moved to Waterford where he has a job of hauling pulpwood with his oxen.

Mrs. Alice Rolfe has been to Auburn again to see an eye specialist for eye treatment. She has a cataract growing on her left eye. Mrs. Rolfe and grand-daughter, Ruth Beane, called on Mrs. Flora Cummings in the hospital in Lewiston, and carried her some housewifery flowers.

They observed Lincoln's birthday, Feb. 12th, very nicely at the Chapel schoolhouse. Program:

A cheap dusting powder is made by mixing together equal parts of slaked lime, sulphur and charcoal. Run this through a flour sifter to make it fine. This is a good powder to dust on large sores. In fly time take a dram of iodine form per ounce and the flies will be kept off. A more expensive dusting powder for use on sores and wounds may be made by mixing together one dram of iodine form and seven drams of boric acid. This is good powder to use on a wound of the hoof head (coppenet). Such wounds should not be stitched. Cleanse them, clip away the hair, dust freely with the powder, then cover with cotton batting or absorbent cotton and bandage snugly. Renew the dressing once daily. If there is a big wound and a flap of skin a callous bunch is likely to remain when the wound has healed. This can be largely prevented by placing a flat wad of oakum over the first turn or two of the bandage immediately upon the flap and wound and then bandaging tightly to cause pressure upon the part.

When a horse gets a nail prick, and such wounds are very common, and serious, always have the wound cut down upon to give vent to any blood, serum or pus which should come away. Even the slight nail wound should be so handled. After the cutting saturate the wound with a one five-hundredths solution of corrosive sublimate and then cover with the last prescribed dusting powder, absorbent cotton and bandage. Renew the dressing daily. If pus issues from the wound be careful to cut away every part of the underrun horn or sole; then swab with the corrosive sublimate solution and use dusting powder and cotton and bandage once a day. Pouring turpentine in a nail prick does not suffice. The slight wound may be followed by lockjaw. The treatment we have prescribed prevents that disease.

Weedon Grossmith, the English comedian, used to tell a good story about a play by Robert Gammeter, which that gentleman asked him to read. Mr. Grossmith took the comedy, but lost it on his way home. "Night after night," he says, "I would meet Gammeter, and he would ask me how I liked his play. It was awful. The perspiration used to come out on my forehead as I'd say sometimes, 'I haven't had time to look at it yet,' or again, 'The first act was good, but I can't stop to explain, etc., must catch the train.' That play was the bane of my existence and haunted even my dreams." Some months passed, and Gammeter, a merry wag, last night occurred to Mr. Grossmith that he might have left the comedy in the cab on the night it was given to him. He went down to Scotland Yard and inquired, "Oh, yes," was the reply, "Play marked with Mr. Gammeter's name sent back to the owner four months ago, as soon as found."

Putting Tobacco in Tins is Like "Locking the Stable Door"

"after the horse is gone." Because when tobacco is chopped into small pieces, much of the flavor evaporates before the tobacco goes into the tin.

There is only one way to keep all the natural fragrance and original flavor in tobacco until it reaches your pipe—and that is the hard-pressed Sickle plug. And the natural leaf wrapper is a better protector than any tin, tinfoil or waxed paper.

Constipated, and Don't Know It!

By Dr. True

It seems odd, but it is true, that you may be constipated and not know it.

You can see why it is. Take a glass and pour in water until full. If you keep on pouring in water after the glass is full, it will run over, but the glass stays full.

Just so with your bowels; they get full of waste matter, and then they pass off or expel from the body only about the same amount that goes into it in the form of food.

So you may have a movement of the bowels every day and yet there will remain waste matter that ought to be removed.

Give your bowels a gentle but thorough cleaning out and you'll feel great.

The prescription I used for this is put up and sold under the name of Dr. True's Elixir. Doctors and druggists use it in their own families. Costs but little and brings health to men, women and children. Tastes good. Works gently. Remember the name, Dr. True's Elixir. Price, 35c, 50c and $1.00.

HOW TO BE HAPPY.

Most People Depend Too Much on Worthless Things.

It is unfortunate, but true, that youth never relinquishes its search for personal happiness as long as there is the slightest chance of attaining it. Time, energy and heart are recklessly spent in the seeking, and only when a woman is hopelessly convinced that personal happiness has passed her by will she turn her attention to the beautiful and interesting things in life which lie all about her, but which she has been too blind to appreciate.

If girls could only be taught a proper sense of values there would be fewer unhappy women in the world. Personal happiness is a wonderful thing, and a life filled with its exquisite light sheds beauty on countless other lives. But if, as happens to many, personal happiness passes one by it does not mean that one's life is ruined and ineffectual. At least if a woman is wise it does not.

Yet so many women having staked all on finding personal happiness have neglected to provide themselves with any effective substitute if they miss it. The unwisdom of this should be apparent to the most thoughtless of girls, and the girl who thinks seriously will ask herself this question, "If I miss personal happiness what have I to take its place?"

"Well," asks the eager girl impatiently, "what is there to take the place of happiness?" And so in the fullness of her youth she scorns the wise woman's reply, but in it dwells the germ of contentment and peace for the long, barren years that may be hers.

A finely educated, deeply appreciative intellect is an excellent substitute for the fickle thing we call personal happiness. If a woman has used her brain and cultivated her personality to its greatest extent, though she may never attain happiness, she may gain a great deal of satisfaction from life.

HE WON'T LIMP N. W.

No more limping for Tom Moore of Cochran, Ga. "I had a bad sore on my instep that nothing seemed to help till I used Bucklen's Arnica Salve," he writes, "but this wonderful healer soon cured me." Heals old, running sores, ulcers, boils, burns, cuts, bruises, scalds or piles. Try it. Only 25c at The Noyes Drug Store. Adv. 6-9

THE SPARROW PEST.

The writer does not advocate the practice of a boy in his early teens monkeying around with target rifles that use powder and bullet, but he believes this same small boy could satisfy his hunting instinct and render a real service if he were provided with one of the latest type of air guns and would start a campaign against the English sparrows that throng the place. The head of the house might encourage the enterprise by offering a bounty of 2 or 3 cents apiece for every sparrow killed.

Some one who has had experience with fens recommends sprinkling oil of pennyroyal on the floors of house and barn and in the sheds.

What has become of the box elder bug that was so much of a nuisance ten or a dozen years ago? Somehow it has not seemed much in evidence lately.

Often the tender spots or bunches on the horse's shoulder made by ill fitting collars may be reduced or entirely removed by painting them daily with tincture of iodine.

The food chemists of the Oregon Agricultural college have figured it out that a slice of ordinary plain cake contains as much in way of food elements as a pint and a half of milk.

The word alfalfa comes from the Arabs and means "the best fodder." This designation seems to be borne out, today by practically all farm animals and poultry that have access to it.

Draft horses are in greater demand than light weights; but, for all that, most men prefer the roadsters in the hope, doubtless, that they may haply find a jewel of a trotter among their colts.

There is near Hempstead, a suburb of Houston, a watermelon patch said to contain 6,000 acres, and it is nothing uncommon for the patches to produce melons weighing from forty to sixty pounds.

The largest and finest strawberries the writer saw this season were from a four-year-old bed, from which all weeds were carefully pulled last summer and a good many of the old roots removed.

A new record for size of egg is said to have been made by a White Leghorn hen in New Jersey, its respective circumstances being 9.5 and 7.5 inches. The egg was soft shelled and has been put in alcohol for exhibition.

Farmers blame the predatory dogs for the decline of the sheep industry in many sections. A single night's raid may destroy the profits of an entire season. And of what use are the predatory dogs, that they should be spared?

The favorite as well as the most common breeding place for flies is the pile of horse manure out back of the barn. If it is not possible to screen this, a simple method of preventing the flies from getting to it is by covering it with straw or old hay.

An interesting fact in connection with turkeys is that the hen, when ranging with her poults, seldom roosts in the same place twice. A distinct advantage of this is that the flock is not subject to the ills likely to result from occupying foul quarters.

Land in some sections of New York state is said to have doubled in value since the introduction of alfalfa growing. This is simply a working out of the law of cause and effect. Any crop that will double or treble the crop value of land is bound to make it advance in price.

Experiments in the feeding of beet tops, as conducted by California dairymen, indicate that when used fresh as a part of the ration they tend to produce butter that is firm and of excellent market quality. The tops form a succulent ration and one that is much relished by the cows.

A lady friend in picking some Columbian raspberries the other day broke off one of the large and quite brittle stems which contained several dozen immature berries. She took this and set it in a vessel of water, and the berries are growing and ripening as if under normal conditions.

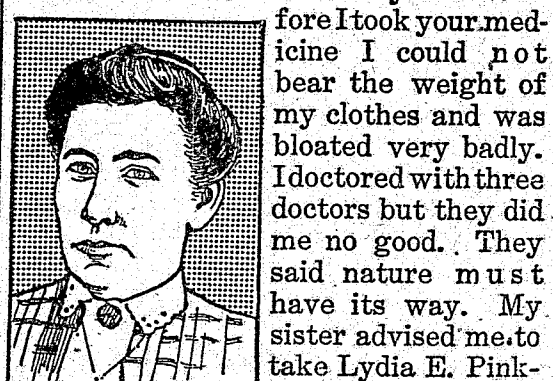

Fire killed timber, large quantities of which have been available in western states in recent years as a result of disastrous forest fires, has been found especially suited to the making of apple boxes, for the reason that it is practically odorless, and it is useful also for telephone poles and railway ties.

The Long Way Around.
There were two barges that were to be taken to a point forty-seven miles away, but it took them a long time to get there. They had to go 10,500 miles in order to get to that nearby point. You see, they were down at the isthmus of Panama, at the Atlantic end of the new canal, and they were to be taken to the Pacific end. But the canal is not finished, and so it could not carry the boats, which were too big to go by railroad without being taken to pieces. So they had to be towed all the way around the end of South America—the south end, that is—and come up the other side.

HOW MRS. BROWN SUFFERED

During Change of Life—How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Her a Well Woman.

Iola, Kansas.—"During the Change of Life I was sick for two years. Before I took your medicine I could not bear the weight of my clothes and was bloated very badly. I doctored with three doctors but they did me no good. They said nature must have its way. My sister advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I purchased a bottle. Before it was gone the bloating left me and I was not so sore. I continued taking it until I had taken twelve bottles. Now I am stronger than I have been for years and can do all my work, even the washing. Your medicine is worth its weight in gold. I cannot praise it enough. If more women would take your medicine there would be more healthy women. You may use this letter for the good of others."—Mrs. D. H. BROWN, 809 N. Walnut St., Iola, Kan.

Change of Life is one of the most critical periods of a woman's existence. Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to so successfully carry women through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

ROAD IMPROVEMENT.

It is hard to understand why so many country road supervisors, who spend good time and taxpayers' money in grading and shaping country highways, so often fail to put on the finishing touches necessary to make the roads passable. We refer to the practice so often followed of scraping to the center of the road clods, sods and weeds and leaving them there in a rough and unsightly ridge, when a little work with a disk pulverizer or common drag would do much toward improving traffic. The writer is well acquainted with the aversion of the average man to hauling any kind of a load over soft and newly made roads, but the condition in which lots of roads are left is taken as sufficient ground for steering shy of them even with an empty wagon.

A NEW METHOD.

A Minnesota farmer in a discussion of the problem of quick grass eradication recommends a plan that he has found entirely successful, one in which he did not find it necessary to lose a year's use of the land. He began his campaign of eradication the latter part of August following the removal of a crop of small grain. He first used a deep tilling machine, plowing the soil to a depth of sixteen to eighteen inches. He harrowed immediately after and double disked three times at intervals during the fall. In the spring he harrowed thoroughly, seeded to wheat, and on harvesting it not a spear of the quick grass was to be seen. This method is different from those usually recommended, but the results obtained seem to furnish strong argument in its favor.

FARM MACHINERY.

Very satisfactory machines have been perfected for the harvesting of small grain, picking corn and digging and sorting potatoes, but as yet no machine has been devised which will pull and top beets. To meet this need the Great Western Sugar company of Denver has offered a prize for a practical sugar beet puller and topper. The motive power for the machine must not exceed four horsepower per beet row. The machine must pull and top all the beets, separate the beets from the tops and leave both convenient for loading. The awarding of the prize by the company does not entitle it to any interest in the invention or machines of the successful contestants.

ABOUT ANGLEWORMS.

The appearance of angleworms in large numbers after a heavy rain is not to be taken as conclusive evidence that they have "rained down." The fact of the matter is that angleworms can't live under water any more than can other land creatures and show up in large numbers following rains in an effort to get needed air; their places of retreat being full of water. In proof of this theory the writer well remembers some years ago the appearance of thousands of dead angleworms on a freshly tilled field that was suddenly flooded with a freshet. The worms succeeded in getting out of the earth, but were not able to escape from the relatively large body of water above.

KILLING THE CORN WORM.

At the Kansas agricultural experiment station they have been conducting some experiments along the line of dusting the silks of sweet corn ears with equal parts of lead arsenate and lime to kill the worms that eat in the ends of the ears. In one plot of corn thus treated worms were found in but 25 per cent of the ears, while on a tract of like size untreated they were found in 75 per cent of the ears. The silks were kept covered with a light dusty coat. No harm comes from the poison, as it washes off readily.

The Auctioneer.

This game is played by any number of persons, one of whom acts as auctioneer. Each of the other players writes on a slip of paper the name of some article and folds it over to hide what he has written. The auctioneer then marks one of the slips and adds a blank one, making one more slip than there are persons playing, and mixes them all together in a hat.

Each of the company in turn draws a slip, and he who gets the blank is put up at auction by the auctioneer, each player bidding the article on his slip. The holder of the marked slip gets the person knocked down to him. He may then require his purchase to perform some trick or feat, and after that the game is repeated.

The auctioneer, instead of marking a slip, may simply open one and look at it afterward accepting the bid of the person who draws whenever it may be offered. One slip always remains in the hat. The auctioneer should look at it, and if it be the blank or the marked slip all must be shuffled over and the players draw again.

The auctioneer should give a comical description of the person to be sold, praising his appearance and good qualities, and may also be required to give a reason for accepting the bid which buys him.

Cablegrams.

This is how to play cablegrams: A certain man went to Europe leaving his family at home. He was either too indolent or too busy to write often. But he could not afford to cable lengthy dispatches, and so he wrote his wife that he could condense each cablegram into a single word by using only initial letters. The first message he sent was "B R O W N."

While he was congratulating himself upon outwitting the cable company by sending five words in one the family at home were distracted over their varying interpretations of the message. His daughter thought it meant "Bought ring on Wednesday night" and began guessing just what kind of a ring it was. His wife in her anxiety read it, "Big rain out wet neuralgia." Other guesses at the intended meaning differed quite as widely.

In playing the game any word may be used instead of "Brown." Let the leader, who is supposed to be the traveler, announce the word, keeping the meaning to himself, and let each player write his guess of the intended meaning on a slip of paper. If there are prizes the one who offers the nearest guess wins.

WORKS WONDERS

For Worms in Children.

The diseases of childhood are often hard to interpret. A nervous condition, restless at night, an abnormally large appetite or sometimes none, may indicate worms. In such cases a teaspoonful of "L. F." Atwood's Medicine at night and a small dose before a light breakfast the following morning is harmless, and will settle all doubt about worms being the cause. Many mothers already know this. One of them writes: "My little boy, aged 6, has never been without 'L. F.' Atwood's Medicine since he was two, and I have found it invaluable for Worms, Constipation, etc."

Mrs. Adelbert E. Jellison, Franklin, Me. If you have never used "L. F." Atwood's Medicine, write for a free sample. 35 cents for a large bottle at all stores.

Kidney Trouble Causes Lame Back.

I am pleased to say a good word for Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, as I was troubled for a year or more with my kidneys and annoying symptoms. My brother advised me to try Swamp-Root. I took several bottles of this remedy with excellent results. At the time Swamp-Root was recommended to me, my condition was such that I found it an effort in stooping or bending and in attending to my duties as Manager of the $9.99 Store at 123 Main St., Evansville, Ind.

Very truly yours,
J. E. ALVEY, Evansville, Ind.
Subscribe and sworn to before me, this 21st day of December, 1911.
Edw. A. TORCHER, Notary Public.

Letter to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

Prove What Swamp-Root Will Do For You Send to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. It will convince anyone. You will also receive a booklet of valuable information, telling all about the kidneys and bladder. When writing, be sure and mention the Norway Weekly Oxford County Advertiser. Regularly fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles for sale at all drug stores.

FREEDOM NOTE. This is to certify that I have this day given my son, Edward H. Tenney, his time during the remainder of his minority and that I shall not pay any bills of his contracting, nor claim any of his wages.

Comparative Digestibility of Food

Made with different Baking Powders

From a Series of Elaborate Chemical Tests:

An equal quantity of bread (biscuit) was made with each of three different kinds of baking powder—cream of tartar, phosphate, and alum—and submitted separately to the action of the digestive fluid, each for the same length of time.

The relative percentage of the food digested is shown as follows:

Bread made with
Royal Cream of Tartar Powder:

100 Per Cent. Digested

Bread made with
phosphate powder:

68 1/2 Per Cent. Digested

Bread made with
alum powder:

67 1/2 Per Cent. Digested

These tests, which are absolutely reliable and unprejudiced, make plain a fact of great importance to everyone: Food raised with Royal, a cream of tartar Baking Powder, is shown to be entirely digestible, while the alum and phosphate powders are found to largely retard the digestion of the food made from them.

Undigested food is not only wasted food, but it is the source of very many bodily ailments.

NORTH WATERFORD.

Daniel B. Lebroke.

Death has again entered the home of Mrs. E. J. Paige and this time taken her father, Daniel B. Lebroke, an aged and respected citizen of 95 years and 25 days old.

He has been failing slowly all winter and was confined to his bed only one week. Old age was the cause of his death and as he told his granddaughter some time before, he was just wearing out.

He married Nancy Cole of Greenwood, who died five years ago and since her death he has longed to leave this world and be with her, and as he said many times before her death, he wanted to see her through and live just fifteen minutes after.

It would have been hard to find such a devoted couple. As long as he was able he would gather flowers and a great many many times walked a distance of over two miles to place them on her grave.

He was always a kind father and grandfather, and thought a great deal of his great, great grandchildren. He was the father of five daughters and five sons. He is survived by all but two sons, who have gone to their rest beyond.

The funeral was held Feb. 11, at his daughter's, who has cared for him many years, R. H. H. W. Hague officiating. The floral offerings were very beautiful. He was laid at rest in Bisbetown cemetery.

The Ladies Circle was held at the vestry, Tuesday night.

Our doctor is very busy so he has to ride all night part of the time.

The Rebekahs held a social and sale here the 22nd at I. O. O. F. hall.

"Tony the Convict," will be at I. O. O. F. Hall next Tuesday evening, Feb. 25th, by local talent.

The Grangers are to have a box supper at their next regular meeting, which is this Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kimball went to Norway last week and Mrs. Kimball had several teeth extracted.

Mrs. Frances Webster has been at her brother's, Winfield Perkins', helping care for her mother.

Geraldine York has been on the sick list so her sister Annie had to take her place at her school mill.

Joseph Lebroke of Oxford and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Lebroke of Norway attended the funeral here of their grandfather.

Mrs. Elsiea York has gone home from Mrs. Charles Cheeves, where she has been caring for Mrs. M. Davis. Mrs. Fawcett has taken her place.

Winfield Knight took an auto load of Odd Fellows to the District meeting at Norway, last week and Herman Holt took a load with his horses.

Two of Waterford's good young people were joined in wedlock, Saturday. The happy couple was Ernest Paioe and Helen Grover. They are many friends wish them a long life of happiness.

Mrs. Sarah Perkins, who has lived with her son, Winfield S. Perkins and family several years, passed away Feb. 11th. Her husband died a few years ago. Since living here she has made many friends and it seemed she was loved by all who knew her. Her remains were taken to New Hampshire, by Mr. Tarbox of Harrison and she was laid at rest beside her husband.

Bisbetown.

Mrs. Newell Andrews is on the sick list.

Mrs. Chandler Merrill is very sick. Her mother, Mrs. George Milliken is caring for her.

Your correspondent saw a crow, Friday, so it makes us think spring will soon be here.

Mrs. Anna Fiske stayed with her sister, Mrs. J. W. Dresser, Saturday night, and attended the show at the village.

Ellsworth Fields met with a bad accident while working in the woods for Rolfe & Edgore by a tree striking him breaking both bones in his leg below the knee besides bruising it very badly. Doctors Bradbury and Coolidge set the bones. He is suffering a great deal of pain.

Rice Neighborhood.

Elizabeth Saunders is very sick with the gripe.

Geo. H. Rice is now hauling pulp wood to North Waterford.

Little Alfred Hersey was sick Saturday night with a bad cold.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Millett of Waterford spent the day at her father's, G. B. Rice's.

Geo. B. Rice was not so well, Saturday and Sunday, a little more comfortable on Monday.

Beatrice Saunders of Sandy Creek came up with her uncle and spent Saturday and Sunday with her aunt, Bertha Saunders.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. McAllister, of Albany spent the day with their uncle, G. B. Rice, Monday; also called on Mrs. G. H. Rice.

The Partridge Lumber Company are to have an auction at 2 o'clock p. m., Wednesday, Feb. 26th, at Norway, Lake. They will sell mill lot and building at the Lake; also a wood lot in Greenwood, containing 16 acres, and a band and drag saw. A. D. Park, auctioneer. See bills.
